

MARK GLENTWORTH's OffFest-nominated solo musical at Etcetera Theatre

MMGMUSIC PRODUCTIONS presents

SEVEN and a half YEARS

Written & performed by Mark Glentworth

Directed by Julia Stubbs

28 & 29 December at 19:00; 30 December at 18:00
(60 mins)

at the Etcetera Theatre, above the Oxford Arms, 265
Camden High Street, London, NW1 7BU

Success. Despair. A new beginning.

Mark Glentworth was at the height of a successful music career and then he lost it all. Suffering a breakdown, he spent SEVEN and a half YEARS in isolation, firstly for six months inside a psychiatric unit and then for seven years inside his own home, existing on just a single sandwich every day from his corner shop. But eventually, he made it back to his family, to the world, and to music.

Witness an extraordinary true story as Mark shares his moving, darkly humorous, and uplifting journey through music and storytelling in this acclaimed solo show.

At the age of 16, Mark Glentworth was one of the youngest students to study percussion at the Royal Northern College of Music and it was here that he composed his world-renowned vibraphone solo Blues for Gilbert which has gone on to become the most performed, recorded and studied solo tuned percussion piece of all time. In his career, Mark has worked with Sir John Gielgud, Sir Peter Maxwell Davis on his Fires of London, the BBC Symphony Orchestra, the London Sinfonietta, the Hallé Orchestra, and as the long-term musical collaborator to actor/writer Steven Berkoff on many of his acclaimed theatre productions.

Director Julia Stubbs recently directed the premieres of What I Really Think Of My Husband by David Pinner (★★★★ Golden Goose Theatre) and Still Here by Mari Lloyd (★★★★ Jack Studio Theatre); other credits include Anne Bertreau's solo play with music A Voice (★★★★ Brighton Fringe & Edinburgh Fringe); and the Off-West End transfer of Steven Hevey's debut play In My Name (Trafalgar Studios) named One of FIVE BEST PLAYS in London by the Evening Standard.

Reviews and Awards for SEVEN and a half YEARS

OffFest nomination from Off West End for its shows at the Greater Manchester Fringe 2023

"an intensely personal piece that is both real and relevant... It was a story for our times" Reviewer Number 9

★★★★ "a really good piece of storytelling" North West End UK

"Glentworth creates an impressive drama through the music" Backstage Bristol

★★★★ "polished performance" Musical Theatre Review (2022)

"It's a beautiful tale of hope and mental health struggles." LOST IN TheatreIreland

★★★★ "Directed by Julia Stubbs the result is a moving piece of theatre" ReviewsGate

BEST MUSICAL Runner-Up "a highly unusual biographical piece of musical theatre that is genuinely touching"
Musical Theatre Review Edinburgh Festival Fringe Awards (2021)

★★★★ "This is a biographical work like nothing else I have ever seen... this show tells his survivor's story in an expression of hope" Musical Theatre Review (2021)

For further information, images and interview availability please contact Tim Stubbs Hughes at Grey Swan on 07931 791807 or tim@greyswan.co.uk

Listings Information

MMGMUSIC PRODUCTIONS presents Mark Glentworth's SEVEN and a half YEARS

Venue: Etcetera Theatre, above the Oxford Arms, 265 Camden High Street, London, NW1 7BU

Dates/Times: 28 & 29 December at 19:00; 30 December at 18:00

Ticket prices: £12.50 plus booking fee

Box office: <https://www.citizenticket.com/events/etcetera-theatre/seven-and-a-half-years-1/>

Show Info: 60 minutes; Occasional strong language; Suitable for 14+

Show Website: <https://www.sevenandahalfyears.co.uk>

